

Swing, Swing, Swing

Through the drowsy afternoon ;
Swing, swing, swing,
Up I go to meet the moon.
Swing, swing, swing,
I can see as I go high
Far along the crimson sky ;
I can see as I come down
The tops of houses in the town ;
High and low,
Fast and slow,
Swing, swing, swing.
Swing, swing, swing,
See ! the sun is gone away ;
Swing, swing, swing,
Gone to make a bright new day.
Swing, swing, swing,
I can see as up I go
The poplars waving to and fro,
I can see as I come down
The lights are twinkling in the town,
High and low,
Fast and slow,
Swing, swing, swing.

Tertiary level Eye Care for Retina Related Diseases in Udaipur

Udaipur : Now it is possible to treat patients with decreased vision due to Diabetes and trauma at Alakh Nayan Mandir which is possible at reasonable cost compared to metropolitan cities. This is possible with the upgradation of advanced technology machines which till now was only available in state capitals, are now available at Alakh Nayan Mandir, Udaipur.

At a press release, Dr. L.S. Jhala, Medical director of Alakh Nayan Mandir told that they have upgraded the retina center with world's best equipments which will be inaugurated by H'able Home Minister of the State, Shri Gulab Singh Katariji, on Sunday at 5 P.M.

The upgraded department will be headed by Dr. Saket Arya, who has finished his postgraduate studies from this very institute. Following which he underwent intense training in treating and operating retinal diseases for four years.

Dr. Jhala further added that they have installed world's latest Vitrectomy machine along with newer Fluorescein Angiography and OCT machines. With their help it is possible now to treat many retinal disorders for which patients has to suffer a lot because of delay in the treatment and travel to bigger cities like Ahmedabad and Mumbai. With this upgradation, Alakh Nayan Mandir has become the first eye hospital in South Rajasthan to provide such facilities. These machines make it possible to operate on retina with incision as small as 0.5mm.

India is world capital of Diabetes with expected number of Diabetics to rise to more than 100 million by the year 2035. About 10 % of Diabetics have some sort of Retinal Disease which increases with the increase in the duration of Diabetes. If not diagnosed or treated on time, vision loss will become irreversible. Managing trustee of the Alakh Nayan Mandir, Dr. Laxmi Jhala explained that the awareness regarding Diabetic Retinopathy amongst the population has already been started with the help of physicians and diabetologists in the city. In coming months, various awareness programmes will be conducted.

Similarly, with advanced paediatric care, there is rise in premature babies who are at risk of developing retinal condition called Retinopathy of Prematurity which can lead to permanent blindness. She also told that currently this disease is present in approximately 20 % of premature babies. Various neonatal care establishments in the city including medical colleges have come forward to help in screening of these babies, so that early diagnosis and treatment can be planned. She also told that Dr. Saket Arya is currently treating a HIV positive lady without any discrimination amongst the patients. Dr. Saket Arya further elaborated that screening of such babies should be done after 4 weeks of birth.
