

Dare to Live Your Dreams

Kashish Sodhi

Dreams are the course of our images, ideas, emotions and sensations which occur reluctantly in the mind. Dreams usually define ones future. "The future belongs to those who live in the beauty of their dreams." Each individual has a goal set in their life which they dream to pursue of. But what if someone is proscribed from living his own dreams? Can he survive without living his dreams? Or what leads him to abolish his path of dreams?

Prateek was very active in sports as well as co-curricular activities. But he was average in academics. He was instructed to focus more on his studies so that he could be amongst the toppers of his batch. His mind was totally allured with the idea of playing football. He used to watch every match of football which was broadcasted on TV. His room was full of all the football stuff- posters, stickers, jerseys and accessories. He followed Barcelona C.F. and his idol was Lionel Messi.

He passed his matriculation with average marks. He entered into 11th with a pressure of Non-Medical from parents as well as other family members. No one asked him that what does he wishes for? Neither did they ask about his dreams. He somehow dissimulated his emotions deep inside him. During his 11th he was offered to play for the Indian U-17 football team. His parents refused him and instructed him to focus on his IIT coaching.

Prateek cried a lot that night and acted as an insomniac for a few days. The suppression of playing football disturbed him a lot. He could not perform well in his final exams of 11th. His parents rebuked him and criticized his idea of playing football which caused his downfall in academics. The same story was continued for 12th standard and his boards exams were up. Throughout the night he had his book in his hand but was not able to study even a single chapter properly.

His competitive exams were round the corner. And his mind was still indulged into football. Prateek had one more chance to fly from India to a country where he could learn football and live football. But, he was forced to give his IIT exam and quit the idea of even dreaming about football.

Can you imagine that you are asked to stop dreaming about the thing you love the most or you love dreaming of? Prateek was deceived with his idea of playing football ever again. Soon his results were declared and he stood nowhere. His parents were upset and annoyed. Their only child was not able to set up a name of his own in the society.

Do we really need to kill anyone's dream just for the sake of 'Society'?

Prateek went to his father and asked him to grant him with a ticket to Spain as his offer of joining there was still valid. But his father didn't agree. He admitted Prateek in a private engineering college. Prateek now had lost interest in football and never joined the college team. He completed his 4 years of engineering and took a job in a well reputed company. He worked hard to gain an image for the sake of the society. But he failed to do so. He was never able to perform well because he was average. He worked 200% for his projects but could never ever reach the 100% mark on the final day. All he had in his bank account was a 4 lac p.a. salary. He was never happy with himself and his life.

"All our dreams can come true, if we have the courage to pursue them." Maybe Prateek didn't have the courage to fight for his dream. But is it right to fight with your parents just for your dream?

They are our parents and have sacrificed a lot for us. Prateek did the same. But neither could he keep his family happy nor himself. Parents dream for their child's well being and happiness. Prateek fought with his life always to keep him happy but he was not living his life. He was a dupe. One fine day his coach asked him to play for hero ISL. A football league was about to start for Indian footballers promoting football in India. For the first time in his lifetime he dared to stand for his dream. He didn't ask his father about his decision and agreed and started his personal training with his coach daily. He gave the trials and got selected for Goa F.C.

"You are never too late to live your dream." Prateek finally had a key to his dream. Was Prateek right to follow his parent's course? Or was he lacking his own self invoking for his dreams?

What I feel is that we have one life- to chase and pursue our dreams. We are born with some talent and some we inherit during our lifetime. These talents lead us to develop our dreams. And if one person is talented and has his norms set on a GOAL, then he must be allowed to follow and chase his GOAL. If he fails, at least he'll be happy in striving forth for his goal. If he succeeds he will be the happiest. So live your dream, chase it till your last breath and have the courage to fight for it; you will definitely excel.

Udaipur offer condolence to Lance Naik Hanumanthappa

Udaipur : Several organizations in Udaipur offered condolence and observed a two minutes silence on the death of Lance Naik Hanumanthappa, Siachen avalanche survivor who died today during treatment. Students of Shramjeevi College of Janardan Rai Nagar Rajasthan Vidyapeeth organized a condolence meet today and garlanded the photo of Lance Naik Hanumanthappa. Members of Bajrang Sena Mewar gathered at Shaheed Smarak, Townhall and offered their condolence too; the group prayed for the soul of Hanumanthappa and lighted candles.

Azharuddin wins Rajasthan-MP Kesari Danga

Udaipur : Wrestler Azharuddin from Alwar won the prestigious title of Rajasthan-Madhy Pradesh Kesari in a wrestling tournament held in Udaipur in the memory of Ustad Lakshman Pahalwan. Azharuddin defeated Aditya Gurjar from Bhilwara in an exciting fight.. Aditya received second prize while Anil and Ajay got third and fourth prizes respectively.

Other Results are as under : In Sitara (female category), Urvashi (Rajsamand) first, Savitri on second and Mona Rani from Pali settled on third position. In Mewar Kumar Category - Bablu Gurjar (Bhilwara) first, Lakhna (Narsinghar) second and Dharmraj Gadri third. In Mewar Basant - Amin (Jhunjhunu) first, Shariq -second, Arun Jadav- third and Lokpal (Bhilwara) third. In Mewar Kishore - Sunil Vishnoi first, Momaram second, Deepak Gurjar third and Nitin Gurjar got fourth prize. The event was attended by MP Arjun Lal Meena and ex MP Raghuveer Singh Meena. Special Guests were Chittorgarh M.P.C.P.Joshi, Vidyapeeth VC Prof. S.S Sarangdevot, Suresh Shrimali and Virendra Vaishnav.

The Supply Chain Summit in IIMU

Udaipur : SKEIN, the Supply Chain and Operations Club of the Indian Institute of Management, Udaipur hosted the 3rd edition of its Annual flagship event, The Supply Chain Summit on 13th February, 2016. The Annual event is a platform where global leaders share their views and opinions on supply chain engaging through a series of panel discussions. This is an initiative to bring together the Supply Chain academia, the industry and the local community to bring in different perspectives and ideas providing valuable insights to the students. The clubs and committees of IIMU provide ample opportunities to apply their learnings while getting a hands-on experience in organizing events. SKIEN's constant endeavor remains imparting the students of IIMU the latest knowledge from the World of Supply Chain.

The event flagged off with an inaugural speech by Prof. Janat Shah - Director, IIMU where he emphasized on the vision of the institute that is focused on research, analysis and entrepreneurship. The Umbrella theme for this Supply Chain Summit was "Reinventing the Supply Chain", that aptly revolved around the current challenges and the need for innovation in supply chain environment. The theme throws light on the current supply chain environment, the processes and the increasing need for re-invention of these processes for an efficient supply chain to meet the demands of the customers.

The run-up to the event saw various kinds of competitions like Online quiz, Case study competition, article writing competition etc. where students from various B-Schools all over India joined to battle their knowledge in the field of Operations and Supply Chain.

The event saw two important panel discussions between renowned industry leaders. The first Panel discussion was based on the sub-theme - "Data-Driven Decision Making in Supply Chain", in which the panelists consisted of Pramod Sant, Vice President - Head of Import Export and Export Control and Customs - Seimens Ltd; Dev Arora, AVP Procurement - Moserbaer; Ravi Sankar, Vice President and Head -

Supply Chain Management, Tata Projects. The vast experience of these industry experts provided an enriching discussion touching upon various aspects of supply chain like Importance of data analytics and data visualization, Role of data analytics in designing the strategy of a business, alignment of supply chain processes, ERP systems and data analysis with the strategic objectives of the organisation etc.. The panel also discussed about the challenges in data driven decision making, role of technology in creating simpler supply chains, percolation of data analytics into various industries etc.. The panel discussion also lead to interesting discussions over intuition overriding data analytics and leveraging data analytics to enter new markets. They also threw light on the need for people with statistical approach and business savvy in the field of data analytics.

The second panel discussion revolved around the sub-theme "Reinventing Retail Supply Chain - Procurement to Distribution", with the Panelists Rahul Pandey, Founder & Director at IGSA Labs; Abhinav Sinha, Head of Planning - Cargill; Sandeep Anand, Head - Demand Planning, Delmonte. The panel discussed about the challenges in Retail Supply Chain and how supply chain acts as a competitive advantage to the businesses. Various aspects of operations like Lean manufacturing, SNOOP, Importance of managing Lead times, Agile and Resilient supply chains, Supply Chain decision spectrum and Supply chain optimization.

This was followed by the unveiling of the third edition of the annual magazine of SKEIN, "OpSamhita" by Prof. Janat Shah. The event ended with a felicitation of the speakers and a vote of thanks. The Supply Chain Summit 2016 was a great success with appreciation from the speakers of the seamless organisation of the event and the students for the insights they gained through the discussions.

Need for reform in higher education : Governor

New Delhi : Governor of Rajasthan Shri Kalyan Singh has stated that the university grants commission has made necessary for qualifying the NET examination for appointment to the post of Lecturers which makes them competent in the direction of research but not capable in the teaching profession. Therefore, there is a need to devise a suitable policy in this regard.

The Governor Shri Singh was addressing the Governor's Conference on Tuesday at Rasthapat Bhawan, New Delhi where the Hon'ble President Shri Pranav Mukerjee, the Vice President Shri Hamid Ansari, the Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi, Governors of various states and Lieutenant Governors of Union Territories were present.

Shri Singh while enlightening upon higher education mentioned that every Government university has been directed to adopt one village which is being developed as 'Smart Village'. The archaic system of wearing 'gown' in convocation ceremonies has been replaced by Indian dresses. Directions have been issued to formulate an exhaustive marking scheme. The present marking system does not adjudge the basic inner knowledge of the students. He transpired his feeling that there is a dire need to bring a qualitative improvement in the field of higher education.

The availability of houses is a serious problem for poor families. The State Government has focused prime attention to resolve it by formulating various schemes. He brought to the notice that the State Government in fulfillment of dream "Swachh Bharat Mission" of Hon'ble Prime Minister has constructed 16,48,000 toilets against the target of 14,93,000 in the current financial year and ranked at the top in the country.

The State Government has formed a department to provide employment to unemployed and skill development of youths. The Rajasthan has been honoured with the first prize in the field of skill development. The Governor pointed out that the territory of the Rajasthan is close to our neighboring country Pakistan, therefore in order to combat cross-border infiltration and terrorism, specialized equipment such as night vision devices, touch sensors, etc. are urgently required by our security and police forces, which needs funding from the Central Government.

Gehlot seeks ACB probe in PRN scheme

Jaipur : The Rajasthan government should immediately order a probe by Anti-Corruption Bureau for unearthing irregularities in the implementation of Prithvi Raj Nagar (PRN) scheme, former chief minister Ashok Gehlot said on Tuesday.

Gehlot raised the demand after urban development and housing minister Rajpal Singh Shekhawat was reported to be irked over the irregularities in regularisation of residential colonies in Prithvi Raj Nagar scheme.

"I had warned the state government that corruption in the Prithvi Raj Nagar scheme will create a problem for JDA (Jaipur Development Authority). Now, the urban development and housing minister himself has accepted these charges," he said.

Large-scale corruption has been reported in JDA on the alibi of construction of sector road and alignment work, Gehlot said, adding that the directions of the Rajasthan high court are being openly violated. In 2010, the high court banned constructions in areas earmarked for the Prithvi Raj Nagar scheme till JDA presents a plan to carry out development in a logical way.

He alleged that only those colonies inside cooperative societies are regularised which give in to the "demands" of JDA officials. "The regularisation camps are held even in areas lying vacant and also for new colonies. Such colonies are given the benefit of rule meant for colonies established before 1999.

Four new routes approved in Rajsamand

Udaipur : Affordable, safe, and accessible transport for the common public services to provide systematic Rajsamand District Department of Transportation has approved four new routes. Regional Transport Officer Dr. Mannal Rawat transport headquarters in Jaipur this month sanctioned four new routes other category. The Amet 46.9 km from Deogarh, from Kankroli 40.2 km, 22 km and Kankroli Akodia from Kankroli 46.5 km from Amet New routes have been sanctioned. He denied these routes transport services by opening several new villages and villages farmers, workers, school children and residents of large towns, Panchayat Samiti, Tehsil and district headquarters to Subsection direct and secure transport services available will be.

Organic Vegetables for Patients

Udaipur : To aware the importance of Organic Vegetable, District Administration under Action Udaipur's Go Organic program will provide organic vegetables to MB Hospital. The initiative was taken by District Collector Rohit Sudhir Dave, in charge of Action Udaipur informed that in the first part of the program, 120 plants of brinjal and 30 plants of tomatoes are planted through vermi compost fertilizer which is 100% natural fertilizer.

Annual festival of Helen O Grady

Udaipur : The age at which a child plays in Hindi Udaipur full knowledge does not give his presentation at that age plays English MA to perform pure accent is not surprised, but it also showed possible by tiny children.

The second annual festival of Helen O Grady International's Speech and Drama Academy was organized at Rajasthan Agricultural where 104 students from about 20 schools through 7 plays excellent pronunciation of English through effective presentation. Children's circus capers, fruit-picking session, Science, Snake Changers, Flying Carpet, Old Woman who Lived in a Shoe, Chicken Hearted Fox and School for Superhero obtained is presented, such as providing an acknowledged artist.

Press Conference for World Music Festival

Udaipur : A press conference on the Udaipur World Music Festival was organized today at Hindustan Zinc office, who is also the largest sponsor of the world music festival. The World Music Festival is happening for the first time in India. It has brought together internationally renowned musicians and artists of more than 17 countries, including India in Udaipur. The 2-day World Music Festival would begin at Udaipur tomorrow, 13th February 2016.

Chief Executive Officer of Hindustan Zinc, Sunil Duggal spoke about the need of such festivals towards promoting Indian culture and heritage as well promotion of international music in India. Udaipur is proud to host such festivals which would also give international recognition to the music of Rajasthan across music lovers around the world. This would also be successful towards inviting tourism from across the world and eventually India would become a place for music lovers. Such festivals would also play important role towards promoting smart city culture in India, Duggal said.

The world music festival will see Symphony of Breath by Japan and India, Music of Saints of India, Strong Meditation by Tunisia, Instrumental Quintet by Serbia, Netherlands, India & Iran, Flamenco Music and Dance by Spain, African Beat Music by Ivory Coast, Rock Fusion Band by India, Omnem Terram by France & India, Fusion of Sufi & Gospel Music by India, Moroccan Saharian Soul by Morocco, and Afro Beat Venezuelan Cumbia by Venezuela, UK and Ghana.

Budget of 309.65 cr aims to create a smarter urban system

Udaipur : The annual budget of Udaipur city for the financial year 2016-17 tabled on Friday here. Major thrusts on city beautification, sanitation and safety aspects of residents. As Udaipur has been chosen for the smart city project, the municipal budget too envisages upon investments and projects which are required to make the urban systems smarter, efficient and resilient to threats from pollution.

Mechanized cleaning, high tech and hydraulic ladder fire fighting system, solar powered lighting systems emerged as the high lights this time. "With substantial private sector involvement projects like Ayad River cleaning, solid waste management, sanitation, sewage systems will be implemented with a view to improve the quality of life of the people of Udaipur" said Mayor Chandra Singh Kothari.

Solid waste management (SWM) Amrut Jal Yojana, establishing a Chaupati bazaar at the SwaroopSagar bridge and creating a museum at the Jagdish chowk library are big projects on which major spends would be made. A whopping 10 cr would be spend for SWM while 110 lakhs for purchase of city buses, investment of 105 lakhs on solar energy, 2 cr for high mast lights, 16 cr for drainage construction and maintenance works, 1.5 cr for mechanized cleaning, 4 cr for Gulabghar, new drainage lines etc are among the other projects highlighted in the budget which was passed without much melodrama owing to the thumping majority of the ruling BJP board.

Udaipur @ RH

Other other demands include periodic leave; all the elderly women employees who are already retired or going to be retired should be provided a gratuity amount of Rs. 5 Lakhs and Rs. 3000 as pension. The protesters in their memorandum also highlighted that the Government has started a process of appointing the supervisors directly on the basis of experience and in that around 25 women has to be appointed but none selected yet.

Swachh Mission Awareness Camp by Wonder Cement

Udaipur : Awareness camp on Swachh Mission was organized in Govt. Senior Secondary School, Badoli Madhosingh, Nimbahera by Wonder Cement Ltd (WCL) in association with Swastha Jagrukta Seva Sansthan, Ajmer on 9th Feb, 2016. Anita Upadhyay, Project Officer and other members of the Sansthan have given the training on healthy and hygienic practices to students. Similar training program will be organized on 10th Feb 16 in Govt. School Fatcher Ahiran in Nimbahera. H S Jhala, Rahul Vyas of WCL, Dr. Dharam Bharwaraj & Wasima Mansoori of Govt. School were present in the program.

Students protest, demand removal of VC

Udaipur : Hundreds of students belonging to the National Students Union of India (NSUI) staged a protest against the administration of Central University of Rajasthan (CURAJ) on Monday and submitted a memorandum to the district collector demanding removal of its vice chancellor (VC) and the research guide for abetting suicide of a PhD scholar.

Mohit Kumar Chauhan, a PhD scholar of the university, hanged himself in his hostel room on Friday allegedly after being harassed by assistant professor Vidyutama Jain under whom he was doing his course. An FIR was registered on Saturday against Jain, head of mathematics department DC Sharma and dean (research) Aditya K Gupta after Mohit's father submitted a complaint against the three accused.

NSUI activists in Udaipur called slogans against the government outside the district collectorate on Monday and burnt an effigy of education minister Smriti Irani. NSUI vice president Deepak Mewara accused the CURAJ vice chancellor and Irani for the suicide of the scholar and demanded Prime minister Narendra Modi to look into the matter and remove inefficient ministers allegedly held responsible for the death.