Shweta makes India Proud

Udaipur: Shweta Dubey, a 32-year-old business-woman has scaled new heights in Spain making the whole country proud. Shweta has completed 900 kilometers of walk in Spain which is as sacred as Amarnath Yatra in India. Shweta became first Indian woman to scale this journey despite a lot of challenges. The journey is taken by hundreds of thousands of people of various backgrounds along the Camino de Santiago, or Way of St James either on their own or in organized groups. In this test, the most popular route is the French way which starts from St. Jean Pied-du-Port near Biarritz in France. Shweta from Udaipur chose this route to start her journey followed by accepting the challenge from her husband Madhukar S Dubey. This route is well serviced with small towns, ATMs and plenty of coffee shops but being a vegan, you better be ready to walk your way through the challenging landscapes on a diet of wafers, cakes, and biscuits mostly (even Eggs are rarely available in the shops for vegetarians). Shweta became the first Indian women ever to walk the Camino and the journey took 40 days to complete the 900 km through everyday endless walking in the heat of 37 degrees. She got her leg infected on the 12th day and doctors advised her to quit this idea of the walk further. She then made a tough decision to continue the journey with just a bag pack, a stick, and her countless thoughts along the path. "Given a chance, would love to go once again" says Shweta. - Prashant Shrivastava

Peasants are committing suicide and are also being shot at : Yogendra Yadav

Dr.H.S.Chandalia Udaipur. "Peasants are forced to commit suicide because of poverty and when they raise their voice they are shot at by the state police. This is the most anti-peasant government India has seen." This was stated by activist and journalist Yogendra Yadav in a public meeting organized at Mohta Park Udaipur. He had come with a march organized by Akhil Bhartiya Kisan Sangharsh Samanvaya Samiti which started from Mandour in Madhya Pradesh and is scheduled to reach New Delhi on 18th where it will culminate into a massive demonstration at Jantar Mantar. Yogendra Yadav talked in details about the plight of farmers in the whole country and said that the peasant is not in the priority of the union government. Addressing the meeting former MLA and fire brand peasant-leader Dr. Sunilam said that the union government is doing this only to facilitate the corporate who want to appropriate the land of peasants by hook or by crook. The state is playing the role of a facilitator for the capitalists, he said. He demanded that case of murder should be filed against the police men who opened fire on the peasants. National President of Akhil Bhartiya Kisan Sabha Comrade Amara Ram said that the peasants have been always exploited but the BJP government has destroyed the hope of the peasants. He said that the peasants, labour, working class and the entire people who believe in justice should fight the government and set up new agenda of equality and justice for all. The Abhiyan demanded adequate price of the produce of the peasants and freedom from the loan they are unable to pay back. Earlier at Badwani the activists of Narmada Bachao Andolan also joined the Yatra and participated in the public meeting. The Akhil Bhartiya Kisan Sangharsh Samanvaya Samiti also reciprocated by supporting the agitation of NBA activists. Among other people Medha Patkar also addressed the meeting at Badwani. In Udaipur Peasant leader Rampal Jat, CPI(M) leader Rajesh Singhvi, CPI (ML) state Committee member Shankar Lal Chaudhary, Himmat Seth, Advocate Arun Vyas, Prof. Hemendra Chandalia, Ramesh Nandwana, Ashwini Paliwal, Dr. Veena Dwivedi, Comrade C.D.Ola. Comrade Lala Ram Jat, Dr.L.R.Patel, Dharmendra, Comrade Meghraj Tawar, Comrade Prem Singh Gahlawat, Comrade D.S.Paliwal etc. were present. Despite rains people participated in the meeting in good numbers. Besides these Chandrasekhar (Telangana), Gora Singh (Punjab), Lingraj (Odisha), Rashmi (Karnatak), Vimalnath (Tamilnadu), and Parvati (Madhya Pradesh) and one hundred fifty were participating in the meeting. From Udaipur the Yatra went to Chittorgarh.

Prez poll today: It's Kovind vs Meira

New Delhi: Even as India readies to elect its new President on to (mon)day mystery shrouds the BJP's candidate for the Vice-President's post, for which the last date of filing the nominations is July 18. The BJP Parliamentary Board is expected to meet tomorrow evening to pick the NDA's vice-presidential candidate after the voting for the nation's 14th President is over. Apparently, the saffron party has planned it this way to avoid any unexpected distractions and glitches in voting for the President, which BJP chief Amit Shah wants NDA candidate Ram Nath Kovind to win with a "sizeable margin". Fielded by Congress and supported by Left and other Opposition parties in what they call as an "ideological battle" against the ruling BJP, Kumar is counting on members of the Electoral College to "heed the inner voice of conscience" while casting vote. Both Kovind and Kumar are from the Dalit community and both insist that their caste has nothing to do with their nomination. But in this Dalit versus Dalit fight, the BJP took the Opposition by surprise by announcing its Dalit candidate first, leaving Congress and others with no other option but to follow suit.

For the Vice-President, the BJP has taken its time, showing absolutely no urgency to beat the Opposition at the game. Meanwhile, all arrangements are in place for the presidential poll that will take place in Parliament House and respective state assemblies between 10 am and 5 pm on Monday. Members of both Houses of Parliament and state Assemblies, including the National Capital Region of Delhi and the Union Territory of Puducherry, will cast their votes. The counting will take place on July 20. The new President will take over on July 25, a day after the end of the term of President Pranab Mukherjee. In the direct contest between Ram Nath Kovind and Meira Kumar, it is the former who has a definite edge due to support from several Opposition parties, including the JD-U. The total value of votes of the Electoral College is 10,98,903 and BJP leaders have predicted 'at least two-third' of these to poll in Kovind's favour. Kovind has backing of the BJP and all of its allies besides several regional parties such as Nitish Kumar's JD-U, Biju Janata Dal (BJD), Telangana's TRS, both factions of the AIADMK and the YSR Congress.

Sachin Pilot slams the Rajasthan Government over bovine deaths

Udaipur: PCC President Sachin Pilot on Thursday accused the government of being responsible for the cow deaths at Udaipur. Bovines in large number died during the last six months and the toll is increasing every day. After visiting the cow shelter Pilot by slamming the BJP government said that it has completely failed in taking proper care of the bovines as the shelter house run by it is under miserable condition. "We today came here to let the government know that Cow is sacred animal for everyone in the country and needs to be taken care off, BJP use to do politics on the name of this animal and its protection, tens of people were lynched by the cow vigilants but where were they when more 150 bovine died here at the Udaipur cow shelter. Earlier at Hingonia too more than 5000 cows died at the government run shelter and now at Udaipur which is a matter of concern, but no body has yet come forward to take the responsibility of the matter and to take some corrective majors, Pilot said. "Rajasthan is the only state to have a Cow Welfare Ministry but i doubt that it was constituted only for the sake getting votes as in Rajasthan only two major incidences of multiple cow death had taken place", Pilot added. He also expressed his concern by saying that if the condition of the bovine at the shelter houses located in city is this that what about the bovines at rural areas. During the last 37 half years of its tenure the government has only fooled the people, cows are suffering in BJP rule as during the Congress rule not a single such incidence of cow death has taken place,

Congress works for the welfare of the people but never do politics on the name cow or any other animal, Pilot claimed. Even after so many days the cow deaths at Udaipur no Senior leader from the party has still visited the shelter house, C.M Vasundhara Raju should take the matter into consideration, she have to answer what role the Cow Welfare Ministry is playing, these merciful incidences of mass deaths of Cows has exposed the real face of the Ministry and other concern departments, Sachin said.
