Holi : A Celebration Of Colour, People And Enthusiasm

Holi is a most popular festival of India. Holi, also known as -"festival of colours" or the "festival of love". It is one of the happiest religious Hindu festival celebrated with lots of preparations in the month of Phalgun. It gives us the message of friendship and goodwill. On this occasion we forget our old quarrels and mix with all freely. There is no difference between the rich and the poor. Celebration of Holi related to the Hiranyakashyap, Prahlad and Holika. Holi celebrations start on the night before Holi with a Holika bonfire where people gather, do religious rituals in front of the bonfire, and pray that their internal evil should be destroyed as the bonfire starts. The next morning is celebrated as Rangwali Holi - a free-for-all carnival of colours, where participants play, chase and colour each other with dry powder and coloured water, with some carrying water guns and coloured water-filled balloons. At this day, people use red color or red abir which is not only a red color but it is the symbol of love and affection to each other. This is the festival when we see no difference among people as everyone looks colorful.

It is the happiest festival especially for the kids as they get new clothes and people enjoy delicious foods and sweets. "Phagwah" or "Deol" in the Assam, "Dol Purnima" in the Bengal, "Dol Jatra" in the West Bengal, "Fagu" in the Nepal and etc according to the customs and traditions. The festival of colours in these parts is called Rangapanchami, and occurs on the fifth day after Poonnima. The festival also symbolises a new beginning for Hindus to end conflicts and let go of emotional impurities from the past.

English Language Communication Competence is the Key to Empowerment : Prof. Chandalia

Banswara: The competence of communication in English is the key to empowerment of the youth of India.

The youth of India are good at the contents of their core subjects but just because of their weakness in communication in English they lose many opportunities.

This was stated by Prof. H.S.Chandalia, Chief Guest of the National Conference on Acquisition of Vocational Communication Competence organized by Government Engineering College, Banswara on Friday. He said that in a multicultural and multilingual country like India the more languages one knows the better it is. NO language is superior and no language is inferior, he said. One must acquire his mother tongue, learn the official language of the Union and also should learn English which is the language of opportunities since it is the language of governance as well as the language of world market. Prof. Chandalia said that Banswara is the richest part of the state in terms of its mineral resources, ecology and water resources, it is not a backward district.

The youth must empower themselves with the necessary skills and make the best of it. Presiding over the Inaugural function Dr. Mahipal Singh Rao, Director Research, Govind Guru Tribal University said that language and communication skills come handy in a situation when you have no one around to seek help from.

One can make his way in a foreign land with good communication skills. Dr. M. S. Wankhede, Nagpur addressed the audience as a guest of honour. He said that all the four basic skills of language are required for acquiring communication competence. The students must make an effort to acquire a command on all these skills of listening, speaking, reading and writing. Another guest of honour Prof. Rajesh Lidiya from Rajasthan Technical University, Kota stated that Engineering students need to develop communication skills because this is what makes them employable.

He said that 70% of the chance of absorption depends on communication skill and only 30% depends on subject knowledge.

ADM Himmat Singh Barhat, Executive Engineer Deepak Shrivastav and Dr. Yeshpal also expressed their views. Lokesh Bhatt, Lecturer in Siddhi College, Sagwara, who had obtained a doctorate in English was felicitated by the organizing body. Dr. Shiv Lal, Principal of the college, presented a report on the pioneering steps taken and targets achieved during his tenure. He said that events like the conference will add to the efforts in the image building of the institution. Dr. Sulbha Kothari convened the programme.

The inaugural function was followed by two technical sessions in which twenty four delegates made their presentations. One session was chaired by Prof. H.S.Chandalia and Co-chaired by Dr. Mehzbeen Sadriwala while the other session was chaired by Prof. M.S.Wankhede.

Post lunch technical sessions were held in which more than thirty papers were presented. Dr. Shiv Lal, Principal of the college told that this was the second conference in two months. Earlier in December an international conference was organized by the college. - Dr. Sulabha Kothari

BE YOURSELF

No one glorifies you,
No one will,
You are only responsible,
Go get it done by you.
You are afraid,
Ah! Afraid of what?
Thought of failure,
Be a failure - player.
Success is beautiful,
Beautiful is tough,
Tough gets rough,
Rough becomes dutiful.

- Dr. Mehzbeen Sadriwala

An Ode to the Nation

O Nation!
My Nation
You have all the colors of rainbow as your collection.
Let not the evil storm spoil it.
For you are one, who can save it.
Your denizens should restrain from killing each other.
However, they should gain from winning each other.
Let me bring to you the gust of freedom
Which was brought upon you?
Ages ago by the sons of your own kingdom
Let the sacrifice be noticeable.
Before we say are not able.
The soul of the martyr in the far valleys is crying
When it sees its own people dying.
Let the string of love and compassion.
Bind each one of us with determination.
O Nation! My Nation.
Let me see you in that condition.
