

Ganpati Bappa Morya ...

Ganpati, the God of Wisdom, Success and Prosperity and destroyer of all Sins and Sufferings is now in different look during this Sarvajani Ganeshotsav. No big pandals, decorations, light, sound, big queues and road blocks. Every enthusiast devotee is celebrating this festival with the close family members on highly personal level.

For last many years, we have been practicing show business and always try to exhibit our smartness, wealth and pseudo strength to impress others. Our Festivals always looked grand. We strived to look grander as time passed. The feeling of superfluous competitions took us away from the wisdom which Lord Ganesh blessed us with.

For last few years we have been warned by the philosophers, environmentalists, scientists, ecologists and spiritual leaders to think thoroughly about the Natures' balance. But our policy makers and we never paid any heed to them. Nature too gave us many chances to change our life style but we rather challenged the Nature time and again. It was now turn of Nature to change entire scenario and it did. Since March, 2020 we are confined to so many restrictions. Celebrating Festivals on has large scale is out of question. We have been pushed back and function on low key. Covid-19 has compelled us to re think and redefine many factors leading our life.

Coming again to Ganpati Utsav, Maharashtra originated this Festival during the pre-independence era with the initiation of great freedom fighter Bal Gangadhar Tilak has always been dominating this Festival. Entire state bubbles with many socio-cultural activities. Goa also experiences the same scenario. All the performing and visual artists become terribly engaged in this festive season. Artistes with innovative ideas earn a lot. The quality of performance and events is of high standard. The events for children would encourage them enhance their skill and knowledge in various aspects of Indian culture.

With the passage of time Ganesh Utsav got tremendous popularity in entire country. But slowly this festival started experiencing few awkward activities going against nature and society. Big idols made of plaster of Paris, use of synthetic items, sound pollution and excessive expenditure and competitions started making this festival more superficial.

Again Maharashtra took lead to modify and improvise Ganpati celebration to make it environment friendly. Concerned and sensitive people not only started making idols of clay but also avoided polluting water bodies by many measures. The individual Ganpati idols were exchanged with friends and neighbors. They started making tiny Ganpati with locally available mud, using natural and organic colors and decorations avoiding synthetic ingredients. They even started immersing Ganpati idol in the bucket at home. Later the muddy water was poured in available plant pots. This year we find a revolutionary improvement in Maharashtra. Each Ganpati idol is stuffed with seed of Tulsi or any fruit or medicinal plant. The immersion would take place in an empty pot which would cater the plant. The fruit plant will be transferred on the land helping in making cities and towns green. This bright and positive idea is being appreciated in other states too.

Our beloved God Ganpati is very kind, he has come very close to us and asked us to be simple and authentic. Sitting at home we can witness many art forms on line and enjoy with our family. We can even send our recordings to our friend circle to get their appreciation. Many sensible people have started following instructions of Lord Ganpati for making better present and future. We all pray Ganpati Bappa to bless us with wisdom and give us courage to become honest and sensible human being to serve our home, city, people and nation in the best way and get rid of Covid-19 along with all allied ailments.

The enormous tricolor of Mewar was 151 feet high hoisted

Udaipur: On 84th Institution Foundation Day of JRNU in the campus of Pratapnagar was celebrated

The Chief Guest Chancellor Prof. Balwant Shantilal Jaini, Kul pramukh Bhanwarlal Gurjar, Vice-Chancellor Prof. S.S. Sarangdevot former Vice-Chancellor Prof. Kailash Sodani, OSD Dr. Hemashankar Dadhich graced the ceremony by placing a wreath on the life-size statue of Janubhai, garlanding the Maa Saraswati image, lighting the lamp, planting trees and flagging the institution amidst rain shower. The artists of Kumbha Kala Kendra performed the institution song. The guests hoisted the highest 151 feet tricolor of Mewar. Former Vice-Chancellor Prof. Kailash Sodani bowed down to Pandit Nagar, who said that he had done the work of awakening education in Mewar in the pre-independence circumstances. The work done by Madan Mohan Malviya in our country was done to awaken the education of Pandit Nagar for the deprived and

tribal class of Mewar, and the result of this is that today Mewar is advancing rapidly from the academic point of view. He said that today there is a need to awaken the feeling of nationalism in the mind of common people in the country. The teachers were invited, and they taught the students to study with the students once a week to awaken the nation's love. Tell the biographies of the revolutionaries who got freedom, including Bhagat Singh, Subhash Chandra Bose, Chandra Shekhar Azad. Chancellor Prof. Balwant Shantilal Jaini said that around 1937 in western India, two universities were formed in the country. The first Sagar University of Madhya Pradesh was founded by Harisingh Gaur, while Dr. Pandit Nagar established Vidyapeeth to impart education in a tribal area in Mewar. Today we talk about self-reliance, but before independence, Pandit Nagar taught the lesson of self-reliance. He established a Shramjeevi college for working people during the day. While presiding, the Kul pramukh Bhanwar Lal Gurjar said that this day is an evaluation of the work done in the past years and a sense of new responsibility. Taking up the work of the rural community of Mewar from a new generation, he talked about fulfilling the dreams of Janubhai. The school is continuously active in its role in the nation's educational, social, and cultural progress. It is the teacher's responsibility to create a good society. It should be the responsibility of which the students should give their all their creation and set an example by presenting such students in front of society.

Chief Guest Vice-Chancellor Prof. S.S. Sarangdevot, the honor hoisting tricolor, said that the national tricolor represents the hopes and aspirations of all of the symbol of our national pride, it enlightens the love, ideals, loyalty, and nationality of our countrymen. In the expenditure incurred in the installation of the tricolor, the Vidyapeeth workers have also given their one-day salary. Prof. S.S. Sarangdevot said that Janubhai started his institution with five courses, which is now being increased to 85 courses, it is possible due to the dedicated and loyal workers of all the schools. The responsibility of building a good society rests on the shoulders of education. That education should not be for itself, but for the proletariat of the community, in the same way, value education should also be needed to advance the country and society. When Mahatma Gandhi was awakening to freedom in the country, Janubhai was busy burning the holdings of education in the tribal region of Mewar. The establishment of the Vidyapeeth is the result of thinking to remove their ignorance. Pt. Nagar established Vidyapeeth only for the establishment of literacy, better education, and value perception. While presiding, the Kul pramukh Bhanwar Lal Gurjar said that this day is an evaluation of the work done in the past years and a sense of new responsibility. Taking up the action of the rural community of Mewar from a new generation, he talked about fulfilling the dreams of Janubhai.

National Webinar on Paradigm Shift in Economy, Education and Ethics During the Pandemic

Prof. Chandalia spoke on Optimizing Economic Growth and Making Policies

A National Webinar on Paradigm Shift in Economy, Education and Ethics During the Pandemic was organized by Bodoland University, Assam in association with St. Ann's College, Kokrajhar, Assam. Prof. H.S. Chandalia, Department of English, JRN Rajasthan Vidyapeeth, Udaipur was a resource person who spoke on Optimizing Economic Growth and Making Policies. The inaugural speech was delivered by Prof. Laishram Ladu Singh, VC, Bodoland University. Other speakers included Prof. Nixon Singh, Prof. Ghanashyam Bez, NEHU, Shillong, Dr. Gayatri Dekadolo, Dr. Tanushree nayak, Prof. Jyoti Raj Pathak and Dr. Manoj Deka.

Talking about the causes of the economic slowdown Prof. Chandalia said that Covid-19 has been a major cause of economic slow down/stand still in a large number of countries. The June 2020 Global Economic Prospects describes both the immediate and near-term outlook for the impact of the pandemic and the long-term damage it has dealt to prospects for growth. The baseline forecast envisions a 5.2 percent contraction in global GDP in 2020, using market exchange rate weights—the deepest global recession in decades, despite the extraordinary efforts of governments to counter the downturn with fiscal and monetary policy support. Other important causes include Unplanned unwarranted demonetization, Failure to check NPA in banking industry, Policy paralysis in controlling and apprehending the big defaulters, Failure to address J&K issues and inability to restore normalcy despite bifurcation of the state and weakening of Article 370, Introduction of NRC and CAA, Lockdown without prior notice and failure to stop workers at their workplace, Excessive reliance on loans for rebooting the SMSE sector.

Prof. Chandalia suggested some measures to bring economy to a strong foundation. Increase the flow of money in the market by increasing employment opportunities, direct money transfer and increasing government spending on running projects, investing sufficiently in agriculture to make it a profitable occupation and increasing growth rate in agriculture, enhancing employment opportunities in rural areas to stop migration, enhancing manufacturing sector to bring greater stability and decrease dependence on imports.

THIS IS ME

I am the reflection of myself,
As I am, so I am
I am in no mood to impress others
Accept or leave me the way I am.
No need to hide your own self
Under any beauty cosmetics it's a crap
Cherish and admire yourself
As you are, you are acclaimed.
God created you in your own way,
So be original and leave the rest,
As long as you are you,
Relish uniqueness at your best
