

Jallianwala Bagh massacre symbolizes British repression and brutality

Udaipur: The Jallianwala Bagh massacre was the most barbaric act of British rule. These tales of repression of the British and the sacrifice of the innocent still make the story stand up. These views were expressed by Prof. Chandrashekhar Sharma of Meera Kanya Mahavidyalaya as the keynote speaker at a classy border event organized by the U.C.S.S.H. Dialogue Series Jallianwala Bagh Massacre organized by the College of Social Sciences and Humanities of Mohanlal Sukhadia University Udaipur. In a program organized under the chairmanship of Vice-Chancellor Prof. Amarika Singh, Professor Sharma said that the genocide of Jallianwala Bagh on 13 April 1919 was the cruelty of General Dyer. One of his decisions killed thousands of people. The British rule also gave a clean chit to Dyer, calling this decision correct. This incident was a conspiracy to weaken the independence movement and break Hindu Muslim unity. He said that proved to be a turning point of the national movement.

The Jallianwala scandal is like that of a Knight Mayor, with villains O Dyer and MR Dyer. It would be wise to call Dyer the Ahmad Shah Abdali of modern India. The Jallianwala carnage resulted from Dyer's bloodshed, his colonial zealotry thinking that Indians should be made a creeping worm, and broke their morale so that they could bear the British oppression. For this reason, the Rowlatt Act, which was called the Black Act, first misused Satpal Arya and Saifuddin Kichlu in Amritsar and roasted about 2 thousand people with 1650 rounds of bullets. There was a game of hiding the death toll in the British Commissions and Inquiry Committees.

O Dyer, avenging this massacre, had O Dyer go to London to be an orphaned 21-year-old Udhham Singh, who worked as a chef after 20 years of work, shot Dyer in London in 1940 and was sentenced to death, Indian national pride. The Jalliwala incident is tragic, but it remains classical in the national image; only then the Mangadh of 1913 is called Jallianwala of Rajasthan.

Vice-Chancellor Singh said that our history has been proud. The knowledge of historical fact reaches the new generation suitable form such ceremony. Efforts are constantly being made in this direction from Sukhadia University. He said that the topic of discussion had been selected with similar intentions.

Mangadh of Vagad is also Jaliwala Bagh ...

Earlier welcoming the guests, the program convenor Prof Seema Malik compared the Jallia Wala Bagh massacre to Mangarh Dham of Wagad, saying that both incidents happened during the British rule, and thousands of innocent people were killed. She said that thousands of people sacrificed their lives during the country's freedom struggle. We have to understand the meaning of freedom.

The seminar room will be in the name of martyr Udh-

Singh. The Vice-Chancellor inaugurated the seminar hall on the university campus. During this time, the Vice-Chancellor announced the building's name in the name of Shahid Udhham Singh.

Immunisation- a lifeline against Corona

Today Covid-19 has become one of the greatest threat worldwide in terms of health and economy. Now the new variant of covid 19 known as Double Mutant Virus has been detected from many parts of the world which is more dangerous and baneful than other variants. More than enough corona cases are emerging every day from almost every region of the world. To curb the spread of virus government of different countries-imposed curfews and lockdown for people but today no drug or medicine has the ability to fight this virus so for effective prevention of the virus proper vaccines or drugs were especially invented by the scientists.

Vaccines made for covid 19 like AstraZeneca, Novavax etc. are very effective, safe and reduces the risks of getting infected as they create anti-bodies and helps in strengthening or boosting up our immune system and prepare it for fighting virus. Vaccines are playing critical role in the battle against covid 19 so they are important for everyone in today's pandemic situation. Now these vaccines are available across the world. Researchers and scientists from all over the world are collaborating and innovating vaccines and other treatments to save the life of the people. These vaccines can also provide some protection from the other variants of the virus. According to the Pfizer CEO, Albert Bourla, people likely need the third dose of vaccine within 12 months. According to the research Moderna and Pfizer vaccines are proved 90-95% effective against the virus.

There are some myths related to the vaccination like some people believe that vaccination is only for the CoV-2 infected people but actually its compulsory for the people who are not even infected by the virus as it prepares the immune system to fight the virus when exposed. Second myth is that you need not to take any precautions (maintaining social distance, wearing masks and sanitizing hands) to prevent virus after getting vaccinated but the fact is that these vaccines protect you from the serious illness and dying so you still have the lesser chance to get infected these precautions should be compulsorily continued even after getting vaccination.

In India government has started its national vaccination programme against CoV-2 virus for all age groups especially the age group between 18 and older as people belonging to this age group are mostly getting infected. India administered approximately 12 million vaccine doses across the country according to health officials. India is running the largest vaccination programme that vaccinates millions of people. More than 100 million doses of approved vaccines - Covaxin and Covishield are being provided in country. Government is planning to immunise around 200 million to 250 million of people by this July.

Rajasthan conducted first round of covid 19 vaccination on 3rd January 2021 in 7 districts of the state. Jaipur and Udaipur received its first consignment of covid 19 vaccines on 13 January 2021 which includes Bharat Biotech's Covaxin and Serum Institute of India's Covishield. On 16 January the first dose of vaccines were given to selected front-line health workers under national vaccination programme, at 16 sites across the Rajasthan. According to the state head of WHO Rajasthan is the best state in terms of preparation for covid 19 immunisation.

Public awareness related to vaccination programme is very important as many of the people are taking that for granted. Health care professionals should provide adequate information regarding the vaccines introduced, in terms of its quality, cost etc. People need to understand the importance of getting vaccinated.

Poonam on a mission

Unfortunately, if not for the coronavirus triggered lockdown; which put a spanner in the movements of everyone including Poonam Jhawer, who was readying herself for an interesting mega web series. Being a firm believer in 'everything happens for a reason', the model-actress-producer-activist-entrepreneur-socialist-philanthropist with large fan followers on Instagram and Facebook, used the downtime to acquire new skills. In fact we can call her social media star...she says "I have been practicing yoga. Being an ardent fan of model-actress-socialist Mallika Arora, I acquired and practiced her few yoga tips to keep me mentally fit and physically healthy. This will be a add-on and surely be a blessing in disguise in my endeavor. I also worked on voice modulations too, as I would like to change my voice as per the role," she informs.

The actress who has been adjusting with her usual daily routines and schedules to the lockdown since last March-end is unperturbed. "Observing the reality and taking different expressions of creativity has the power to enrich our lives. Being at home adding that her culinary delights and cooking skills have been a savior. "After my regular work-out and being a foodie at heart, I managed to cook something exciting but managing a combination of health and taste together. "Speaking about the fresh lockdown and guidelines imposed in the state, she responds saying, "Despite the Union ministers' guidelines, many chief ministers fail to see the larger picture. Everyone is experience the massive economic damages. Instead of debating the pros and cons, many parts of the country remain under lockdown imposed by their respective governments."

All those who are associated with Poonam Jhawer says she is good at whatever she does and yes this talented lass is going to be noticed in a big way. Poonam Jhawer never fails to surprise all of us and keeps on sharing with her fans and followers when she starts doing something new. She has also managed to hear a great number of scripts. Poonam Jhawer says, "There is couple of projects streamlined as an actress which are in negotiations and to be signed on the dotted lines. One is a coming-of-age drama topped with slap-stick comedy; while the other one is voluptuous and sensual..."

The Oomph girl who started her career as a fashion model for brands like "Killer Jeans", "Paaneri Sarees", amongst others even featured on the cover of "Debonair" magazine and music videos. Having made her film debut with Mohra, followed by Aanch and thereon to OMG: Oh My God!, etc., she had the opportunity to display her acting histrionics with different roles. She knows and understands the pulse of social media has bright ideas up her sleeves. "We are still in a society which is starved of open conversations about sexuality, pleasure and health," chips in the actress. "As an activist and social reformer we need to highlight social ethics, civic sense, basic necessities and all those requisite perks necessary for a mankind," she selflessly adds.

It's just not only work for the model-actress... She is known to attend political rallies and is affiliated to many NGOs to champion the right to quality education for the young girls in rural India too. The actress too is interacting with several young girls from across the country and understanding their aspirations and guiding them in the right direction. She is currently identifying villages where gender discrimination is at its worst. She asserts that bridging the gender and literacy gap is of utmost importance.

Mission Mustard 2025: Aiming for 200 lakh tone by 2025

Udaipur: The Solvent Extractors' Association of India (SEA) is pleased to announce hosting 4th Rape-Mustard Conclave (Webinar) on "Mission Mustard 2025- Aiming for 200 lakh tones production of Mustard by 2025 to make the country Atma-nirbhar in Edible Oil" on Friday, 23rd April from 11.00 AM to 1.30 PM (IST) on virtual mode.

Rape-Mustard seed is at the heart of the population in the Heartlands of India and its oil is the preferred oil across the Northern and Eastern India. Rape-Mustard constitutes a very important stature in the group of Rabi Oilseed crops of India and its production levels vis-a-vis other rabi oilseed crops determine the price flow of all oilseeds in the second half of the Oil-year season.

A lot of work has been done to promote its cultivation, yet its production is range-bound in the 7.0 to 8.0 million tones in the last decade. Rape-Mustard seed is a high oil content crop and there is an urgent need to increase its production in the country. This intervention is in the line with PM's call for Atma-nirbhar Bharat and for Doubling farmers' income by 2022. With the ever increasing demand for food crops, there is an increase in fight for acreage; therefore the only way forward to have increased production is to have an increase in productivity.

SEA in its attempt to bring the Rape-Mustard seed, oil & meal fraternities together, had organising three Conclaves in the past during 2017-2019 to deliberate and focus on the issues before the industry, farmers & trade and also to arrive at the solutions by fruitful interactions with the eminent speakers and panel members from across India. This 4th Conclave (Webinar) will also provide a unique opportunity for open discussions & exchange of views about the issues pertaining to Rape-Mustard oil and meal, International & national businesses, to find solutions to the problems faced by the manufacturers, importers & exporters, technologists, players from the commodity exchanges, brokers & dealers.

With Central Aid Assured Rajasthan Opens Sufficient Oxygen Supply For Covid-19 Patients

Rajasthan, along with 11 other States of India is counted as 'High Burden States' by Central Ministry on Thursday, April 15, 2021. This decision is made accounting the heavy quantity oxygen shortage concern arising there for Covid-19 patients. Giving it a top priority, Union Home Secretary, Ajay Kumar Bhalla, has mentioned to provide each of these High Burden States more than 17,000 MT of oxygen by April 30. Besides Rajasthan, other 11 States under this category are Maharashtra, Gujarat, Delhi, Punjab, Haryana, Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Karnataka, Kerala and Tamil Nadu.

Following the growing demand graph pointing more than 60 percent of daily oxygen production being used for Covid treatment purpose, Central Government has imposed a ban on oxygen supply for industrial use from April 22 to be continued until further order. Allowing even more, unrestricted free inter-state transportation of oxygen is permitted. No limitation is there on oxygen manufacturers and suppliers for oxygen delivery to hospitals located in their own State. Special freight trains 'Oxygen Express' are proposed to be running to supply liquid oxygen and oxygen cylinders through Green Corridor, a quick delivery route as suggested by Rail Ministry.

In Rajasthan, situation is worsening day by day. As found on Friday, April 16, through Rajasthan's State Health Department Data, 7359 Covid Positive patients were admitted in various hospitals. Major cities such as, Jaipur, Jodhpur, Udaipur, Kota, Bhilwara, Rajasamand, Sirohi, Dungarpur and Baran are already marked under Red Zone Area.

On Saturday, April 17, 2021, the State Health Department has instructed all divisional commissioners and collectors of Rajasthan to maintain sufficient buffer stock of oxygen supply for Covid Hospitals. To keep it All-Time-Ready in this emergency, 24 Hours power supply will be given in three phase to the oxygen-generating private plants to ensure their full production. Together with other States, Rajasthan has made all its support system available to eliminate this alarming pandemic danger.
