Vaccine delivery by Drones

New Delhi: The drone trials for the Medicine from Sky Telangana initiative conducted in real-time with the delivery of real vaccines and medicines. Skye Air which is a part of the Dunzo Med Air consortium for Government of Telangana "Medicines from the Sky" Project will work in collaboration with Dunzo Digital to enable faster and efficient healthcare logistics during the 6 days trial.

The trials will begin on 20th September in Vikarabad, Telangana and shall continue till 25th September, during which several healthcare logistics related use cases will be demonstrated by the duo. The drone delivery tech firm, Skye Air that focuses on an end-to-end ecosystem for drone based logistics will be conducting this as a part of the Dunzo Med Air consortium led by the hyper local giant, Dunzo Digital.

Editorial

Dunzo Digital is a hyper-local on demand delivery service company based out of Bengaluru, backed by Google. The company provides faster delivery services in Bengaluru, Delhi, Gurugram, Pune, Chennai, Jaipur, Mumbai and Hyderabad.

"We believe our participation in the 'Medicine from the Sky' project will facilitate a more connected state and country. This technology will allow for almost instantaneous access to vaccines and medicines from the most populous to most remote areas in India in the near future." said, Mr. Kabeer Biswas, CEO and Founder, Dunzo

"As our delivery partners continue to keep our cities safe on ground, we are working round the clock to meet the urgency of demand for essentials." Mr. Biswas added.

Confident about the trials, Mr. Swapnik Jakkampundi, Co-founder, Skye Air said, "We have had a successful Telangana trial run so far. Dunzo Med Air Consortium will have multiple test use cases including extended and reverse logistics in Vikarabad. These will be BVLOS trials which will continue over the next 6 days. The drones will deliver up to 12 km within an expected time frame of 18 minutes with each drone carrying vaccines in temperature-controlled boxes powered by Bagmo. We are happy to share the vision of Dunzo towards enabling deliveries via drones."

Skye Air further indicated that they will be conducting around 50 flights all delivering vaccines.

Country is not a market, it's a family: Sadhvi Niranjana Jyoti

Sadhvi Niranjana Jyoti, Minister of State, Ministry of Rural Development and Ministry of Consumer Affairs, Food & Public Distribution, Government of India, said that our country is not a market, it's a family. There must be enough grievance redressal mechanisms available for our consumers; our ministry is working towards it. The big players have been contributing to the growth of the economy but the small players are also playing a crucial role. Small businesses provide opportunities for employment as well as the growth of the economy. The government is working towards enabling MSME growth and increasing investments, and we shall reach newer heights. The industry has a big role to play in India's development.

Ms. Nidhi Khare, Additional Secretary (Consumer Affairs), Department of Consumer Affairs, Ministry of Consumer

Affairs, Food and Public Distribution, Government of India said that the government is facilitating and making all efforts to ensure that the economy should improve, the compliance burden is reduced so that it brings ease to doing business. When we talk about consumer rights, we are creating a situation where it should be a win-win for all stakeholders. Eventually, there should be systemic ways in which consumer rights can be protected and safeguarded. Under the new consumer protection act, we've added provisions to provide speedy justice to consumers.

Consumer grievance officers should be readily available at marketplaces. As more and more people are approaching e-commerce sites, the platforms need to strengthen their consumer grievance redressal systems. We want to create shopping in India a nice experience. Buying from e-commerce entities should be safe, secure, and trustworthy. Our e-commerce rules are very simple. They list out the duties and liabilities of e-commerce entities. We don't want the e-commerce industry to feel threatened by overregulation in any way. We want e-commerce entities to be confident in their approach and follow best practices.

Mr. Mark Fellin, Head Product Trust & Regulatory Compliance, Amazon, said that Amazon is a customer-centric company. Regulatory compliance and product integrity is a top priority of our team. Our ultimate goal is that when a customer is shopping on Amazon, he/she has the safest experience ever. From a safety and compliance perspective, we have a proactive and reactive approach.

Mr. Sanjay Aggarwal, President PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry, in his address said that Consumer confidence can only be built when the consumer is assured about the quality of the product and the service given by the e-commerce/online companies.

Prof Bejon Misra, Chairman, Consumer Affairs Committee, PHDCCI, said that E-commerce has been a big platform that played a key and pivotal role that ensured that consumers are not denied products and services without compromising safety and security. Retailers were able to survive during the pandemic by moving to e-commerce channels. It is predicted that we will see a 25-30% increase in e-commerce trade.

Dr. Yogesh Srivastav, Assistant Secretary General, PHDCCI moderator the session. PHDCCI's webinar was supported by Annual Sponsors such as DLF India; Multani Pharmaceuticals; UFLEX; JK Tyre & Industries; Marble City; Paramount Cables; SMC Investments and Advisors;

The Conversion "is a story of a love triangle based in Banaras and is all set to release in 8th oct 2021. Shot in the beautiful ghats of Banaras, the film explores the dilemma of religious conversions that happen during love marriages in India.

Talking about the film director Vinod Tiwari says " We have been waiting for this moment, not only because the film is really important to me but also because this subject will bring the social awareness amongst today's youth. Conversion is not a simple love triangle between Bablu, Dev and Sakshi but a film that sensitively explores the dilemma of religious conversions that happen during love marriages in India."

Talking about her character actress Vindhya Tiwari says "I feel fortunate to be a part of a film which will bring the social awareness especially amongst today's youth about the religious conversions which happens during love marriages in India. To choose a life partner is everyone's right but just like that to stick to what religion you belong to is also one's right.

As the girl leaves her house post marriage, these conversions are forced on her, we hear about them but to see how it really happens and how it affects the girl is the story of Sakshi's life".

Bringing in life the character of Dev, actor Ravi Bhatia says "The conversion is special for me in many ways and to be a part of Vinod ji's journey with The Conversion was one of the dreams come true moment for me. The Conversion is not just a film but a social message which needs to be seen by everyone in our country".

Prateek Shukla who will be portraying the character of Bablu says " I have never played as challenging and vital role as Bablu in my career. I have tried to give my 100% to bring Bablu in life on screen. This character will surely make a deep impact on the audience".

Directed by Vinod Tiwari "The Conversion" will be starring Vindhya Tiwari, Prateek Shukla and Ravi Bhatia in the main lead. The cast also has names like Sapna Choudhary, Vibha Chibber, Sunita Rajwar, Amit Behl, Sandeep Yadav, Sushil Singh Vijay Trivedi and Manoj Joshi in the main characters. The Conversion is story by Vandana Tiwari, music by Anamik Chauhan, DOP Navneet Beohar, produced by Raj Patel, Raj Nostrum, Vipul Patel and presented by Nostrum Entertainment Hub.
