

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to Rajasthan

New Delhi: Prime Minister Narendra Modi is coming to Mangarh Dham in Banswara district of southern Rajasthan, adjoining the tribal-dominated borders of Rajasthan, Gujarat, and Madhya Pradesh on November 1. Modi will pay homage to the anonymous tribal heroes of the freedom struggle as part of the Amrit Mahotsav of Independence by participating in a religious gathering here. He will also address a massive public meeting. Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot and many leaders of the Center and the state will also participate in this program.

Mangarh Dham will be declared a national monument - 109 years ago, 1500 people were martyred.

Mangarh Dham is considered a more significant martyrdom site than Jallian Wala of Amritsar (Punjab) and the holy shrine of crores of tribals of Gujarat, Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, and Chhattisgarh. Situated on a high hill near Sajjangarh-Jhalod and Anandpuri, this Dham is connected to the geographical boundaries of Gujarat and Rajasthan. Here, about 109 years ago, under the leadership of Saint Govind Guru, who awakened the spiritual and social consciousness among the forest dwellers and the leader of the 'Bhagat Movement,' on November 17, 1913, a fair was organized on Margashirsha Purnima on Mangarh and thousands of people gathered on the holy dhuni. British soldiers, led by Colonel Shotton, were brutally and brutally massacred, roasting 1500 innocent people by a rain of machine guns and artillery shells.

Mangarh, which illuminated the spark of freedom and the historical sacrifice of the nation's devotees, remained in the darkness of oblivion for years, but in the past, the strong demand to declare it as a National Martyr's Memorial has grown due to which Prime Minister Narendra Modi during his visit on November 1. An announcement will be made to make Mangarh a national martyr memorial site.

Congress and BJP leaders had demanded

CM Ashok Gehlot has already written a letter to PM Modi regarding the National Martyr Memorial status grant to Mangarh. Along with this, Leader of Opposition in Rajasthan Legislative Assembly Gulab Chand Kataria, senior BJP tribal leader, and local MP Kanak Mal Katara have also raised this demand in Parliament many times. Recently, Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot, local MLA, Water Resources Minister Mahendrajit Singh Malviya, and former Information and Public Relations Minister Dr. Raghu Sharma raised this demand once again in an election rally in Gujarat.

In the election season, this time in place of Beneshwar, Mangarh Dham was made the Center.

Whenever the election season approaches, the movement of political leaders increases in the Vagad region to woo crores of voters of the tribal area bordering Rajasthan, Gujarat, and Madhya Pradesh, and the significant places of faith of the tribals are their main centers. Till now, there has been a movement of leaders mainly in Udaipur, Banswara, and Dungarpur districts and Beneshwar Dham, which is considered to be "tribals' Prayag" situated at the Triveni confluence of Som Mahi and Jakham rivers, but this time Prime Minister Narendra Modi's proposed visit to Mangarh Dham has made this site brought in even more discussions.

In the last few decades, huge gatherings of all the prime ministers and prominent leaders of Congress and BJP have been held at Beneshwar Dham in Dungarpur district, which is considered the Kumbh of the tribals. Its main objective has been to cultivate crores of tribal voters. Rahul Gandhi also had a massive rally in Beneshwar after recently holding the Congress's National Thinking Camp in Udaipur. Earlier, Sonia Gandhi and Prime Minister Narendra Modi have also been trained. These days, along with the development works on Beneshwar Dham, in the series of renovation and renovation of the temples here, a huge ceremony of Golden Shikhar Kalash is being held at Shri Hari Temple, in which Mahant of Beneshwar Dham and regional MP Kankamal Katara to invite Prime Minister Modi to participate.

Come to Delhi. It is said that the Prime Minister had also given his consent to come to Beneshwar. Still, the BJP strategists chose Mangarh Dham instead of Beneshwar for Modi's visit because it is closer, friendly, and essential to the Amrit festival of independence theme. It is believed that Prime Minister Modi can simultaneously inspire the people of three-four states, mainly the tribals, by concocting the spirit of patriotism in their minds.

Will there be a dent in tribal votes? Ratlam-Banswara-Dungarpur-Ahmedabad rail line issue will also rise Political strategists believe that this initiative of Prime Minister Modi before the Gujarat assembly elections can make a big dent in the Congress strategy, and tribal votes are considered their vote bank.

Because of the assembly elections to be held in November this year in Gujarat and next year in Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, and Chhattisgarh, some important announcements can be made by Prime Minister Modi on Mangarh Dham by hitting several targets with one arrow, including declaring Mangarh as a national monument site. Other significant announcements will be included, including the road corridor connecting these states, but how will the Prime Minister fulfill the resentment prevailing in the tribal area regarding the stalled work of the Ratlam-Banswara-Dungarpur-Ahmedabad rail line and this project lying in abeyance? Will have to see it. Remember, Banswara is the only district in Rajasthan from which no railway line passes even after 75 years of independence, and the suffering of the area's people has crossed every limit. They must depend on railway stations like Dahod, Vadodara, Ahmedabad, Dungarpur, Udaipur, etc. Apart from the nearby Ratlam Junction for rail travel to destination places. Demands of the area residents are Chittorgarh-Neemuch-Pratapgarh-Banswara-Jhalod-Dahod-Vadodara-Surat-Mumbai, and Indore-Kushalgarh-Jhalod-Dahod rail line is also to be approved. However, a day before the visit of Mangarh Dham, Prime Minister Modi will give a significant gift to a part of the tribal area by launching the much-awaited big rail line project of Asarwa-Ahmedabad-Himmatnagar-Dungarpur-Udaipur. Make some such announcements regarding the combined tribal region of Rajasthan, Gujarat, Madhya Pradesh, and Chhattisgarh, which can benefit the BJP in the next assembly elections. At the same time, along with these states, the demand to create a new "Bhilpradesh" by merging some tribal districts of Maharashtra and measures to overcome the growing separatist aspirations among the youth of these areas will also get strengthened.

Rajasthan and Gujarat have built different monuments in their borders on Mangarh.

It is noteworthy that the governments of Rajasthan and Gujarat have built different monuments on Mangarh in their respective borders. Prime Minister Modi made the memorial when he was the Chief Minister of Gujarat.

Similarly, Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot and Vasundhara Raje have also done many developments works like museums, panorama, etc. Although being the home district of former Chief Minister Haridev Joshi of Banswara district and also being the sphere of influence of famous socialist leader Mama Baleshwar Dayal, since independence, Mangarh has continued to get a lot of importance and the local tribal leader and Bagidaura MLA Nathuram even to the main Bhagat of this Dham. After this, Mahendra Malviya, who became MLA and Tribal Development Minister, also took a keen interest in Mangarh Dham. In this way, this place has been in the headlines for the last few decades.

Vagad is still backward and neglected in the race for development.

By the way, Bhagirath Late Chief Minister Haridev Joshi, who brought Ganga in the form of Mahi Bajaj Sagar project in entire Vagad zone Banswara, Vinoba Bhave, leader of Bhoodan movement, Socialist leader Mama Baleshwar Dayal, Bhopendra Nath Trivedi, Vagad Gandhi Bhogi Lal Pandya, Minister of Parliament and National Scheduled Castes-Bhikhabhai Bhl as the President of the Tribal Commission, Donagendra Singh, the first Indian and Asian President in the International Court of Justice, Nathan Singh, the first Lieutenant General of India, Maharawal Laxman Singh, the efficient and ideal ruler of Dungarpur and the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, and cricketer Raj Singh Dungarpur, Hanumant Singh, Surya Veer Singh is famous for his unique culture along with the birth and work land of eminent litterateur Panna Lal Patel and Syedna Saheb of Dawoodi Bohra society, settled in Gujarat of Banswara and Vagad origin, yet it is still considered a very backward and neglected area in the race of development. Due to this, the people of this area, especially the tribals, migrate to the states of Gujarat, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh, and gulf countries in search of employment.

In this background, during the proposed Vagad Yatra of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, it will be interesting to see what concrete announcements Saheb announces for this entire tribal-dominated area.
