Karma in response

Man does not act, generally it responses. Man acts in response to some object, person or situation, sometimes in a good manner and sometimes in a bad manner. The farther the cause of a good deed is from us, the higher is the level of that deed. The farther the cause is, the more it comes into the category of charity. As much it gives happiness to someone in front, more than that it gives peace and satisfaction to us. This is the path of public welfare.

But at times we see someone else misusing his power, then by preventing him from doing so, we prove an act of charity. But such type of charity should be done very carefully. Because regretting after that will not be fruitful in any way. You just cannot help when the bird pecked the field. The arrow fired from the bow never comes back.

Sometimes, it also happens that we do injustice to someone for the sake of someone else. So I want to give message through this video/editorial that when we do injustice to someone for the sake of someone else, It should be thought long before that who will bear the consequences, for whom we are doing injustice that person will suffer or being a doer we will suffer ourselves. We should also take into consideration that whether the person we see as victim or in a pathetic condition, is he really deserving pity. Everything should be understood very well, given a second thought because always, the doer of the karma has to suffer the consequences of that action, whether he has done it knowingly or unknowingly, intentionally or unintentionally. did it for self or for someone else, did it at its own discretion or under the guidance of someone else, did it happily or out of compulsion, did it in haste or with patience, did it in this life or in past life.

Sometimes people cunningly present themselves in a pathetic form to fulfill their selfishness, and we tend to believe it. It is also worth remembering that it is not always true even if seen with eyes or heard by ears. Any object, situation or event has different consequences in different circumstances. Again, no object, situation or event is alone in itself, there are many different factors working behind it, there may be a chain of deeds behind it which affects its appearance. And those influencing factors hidden behind it are not visible or heard to us. Also should not forget that God is running this world, not we.

The above statement does not at all mean that we should not extend a helping hand to someone after seeing him in painful condition. We must help because this is the proof of humanity. It is for us to brood over the matter, then take a decision and then act accordingly. It would be more preferable to act intelligently rather than emotionally. Just as death is certain by drowning in water, the same way salvation is certain by drowning in devotion. In the same way, after doing work, it is also certain to pay for its fruits. But don't be egoistic in times of happiness and don't lose faith in God after getting sad results.

Sometimes, even after doing a good deed, a person remains restless because he tries to review that work from different angles, different points of view, so the clouds of apprehensions start gathering. The nature of human mind is like this. That is why any work should be done only after deep contemplation. The truth has been said by someone, "Without thinking if you act, you repent." Your right actions are your destination and if you ask others the way to your destination, you will go astray because no one else can know the importance of your destination as much as you can know. Therefore brood over the matter and then perform any action, then also without any hurry. So that, at the end it can make you smile.

You know that smile is not only good for health but also is the greatest medicine that effects not only you but also others around you. So find chances to smile. Otherwise also, smiles are fat free, sugar free, reduces BP, helps relieve pain and depression, require no batteries absolutely free of cost-----so keep smiling.

Fruit saves water

Udaipur: Under the water conservation and water purification campaign at NCA Senior Secondary School, Nakoda Nagar, water hero Dr. PC Jain conducted a TDS test of the water brought from the homes of 60 students and teachers. Of these, 37 water samples were obtained from RO, 14 from a tap, and 9 from a borewell, which was tested. Maximum 141 and minimum 8 milligrams per liter of RO, maximum 671 and minimum 214 in a fixture, maximum 966 and minimum 248 milligrams in borewell per liter TDS. Then told them that 250 to 350 TDS water is the most drinkable.

He said that keeping water in a plastic bottle for a long time, microplastic dissolves in that water and can give rise to many diseases, including cancer, so a metal bottle is better. There is also a way to conserve water by spreading coconut shells around the trees. He said that Along with this, soap made from lemon and ash was also distributed for washing utensils to reduce water pollution.

Eat fruits to save water.

Explaining the relation between fruits and water, he said that a person spends 300 liters of water on eating fruits for a year, and 15000 liters of water is spent on consuming meat for a year, so when we eat fruits, we also save water. It is best to eat necessary, cheap, and local fruits according to the season. If all of us start doing this, then our dry rivers will begin flowing again, water will be conserved and our health will also be good, which is very important for our future.

If a tri-junction is built at Shakti Nagar corner, then the doors of progress will open - Mukesh Madhwani Udaipur: Traders of this area have suffered the loss of lakhs of rupees due to the cut of Shaktinagar corner, which has been closed for the last several years. If the administration makes a tri-junction at Shaktinagar corner, then the doors of development of this area will open.

Who was speaking in a meeting organized at Ashoka Bakery? This was said by Mukesh Madhwani, President of Shaktinagar Business Board. He said that in Udaipur, the city of lakes, intersections had been built at many places for beautification and to enhance the city's beauty. But there is a place in Udaipur city where the circle needs to be developed for beautification and according to need. This is the place of Shakti Nagar Corner Tiraha, built from Surajpole to Delhi Gate.

Madhwani says there used to be a circle at this intersection from where vehicles from Surajpole used to turn directly towards Shakti Nagar. But ever since it closed, all vehicles have had to go around Delhi Gate from Surajpole. In such a situation, the vehicle holders go directly to Delhi Gate.

Shaktinagar has emerged as a significant market today, but due to the lack of a circle on the Shaktinagar corner, common people do not come inside for shopping. Due to this, the traders have to bear substantial economic losses.

Madhwani has demanded from the administration that a circle should be developed at Shakti Nagar corner from where the passers-by can directly enter Shaktinagar from the corner so that both traders and passers-by can get its benefit.
