

Assam Governor Kataria released the book "Mewar ki Punarkhoj"

Mewar is respected all over the world - Kataria.

Udaipur. The Governor of Assam, His Excellency Gulabchand Kataria, has said that the fame of Mewar is not only in India but in the whole world. The sons of this land have earned such a name that as soon as the name of Mewar comes, the country and the world bow down and give us respect. This fame of Mewar will remain as long as this earth exists. There is no doubt about it.

Kataria was addressed as the chief guest at the book release ceremony organized by Neutrality World Communication and Media Private Limited and 'Trending Udaipur' at Bappa Rawal Auditorium of Mohanlal Sukhadia University on Thursday. Former royal family member and MMC trust Dr. Lakshyaraj Singh Mewar was the special guest on the book "Mewar ki Punarkhoj" written by a renowned senior journalist of Rajasthan, Dr. Sandeep Purohit.

Remembering Lord Eklingnath, Kataria said that Eklingnath has always blessed Mewar. He said that even nature had been kind to this land of bravery and self-respect. He congratulated me for publishing a book on Mewar's craft architecture, art, folk life, culture, and traditions and called it commendable. He said that it is the responsibility of all of us to tell the future generation about the glorious history, art, and culture of Mewar. Special guest former royal family member and MMC trust Dr. Lakshyaraj Singh Mewar said that on the release of the book which guides Mewar, it was proud to have Mewar Dharma and Mewar's great personality and praised the efforts of the organizers. Appreciated the craftsmanship of Mewar Rediscovery for showing the culture and traditions differently and called it a successful creation. He created the art of Mewar. Initially, upon arrival of the guests, Dr. Preeti Bohra and Manish Kothari, Director of Trending Udaipur. Hampi Festival included in famous festivals

Dr. Prabhat Kumar Singhal, Kota

The ancient Hampi festival of the state of Karnataka, with a background of artistic temples and the natural beauty of the mountains included in the world heritage, has today become one of the famous festivals not only in India but also in the world.

This festival is celebrated every year for three days in October or November. This festival started as a victory festival for establishing the empire during the rule of the Vijayanagara Empire.

During the festival, the brightly decorated monuments of Hampi reverberate with music and dance. Tourists from all over the country and the world witness this great art-music festival, and it is a golden opportunity for them to see and understand the art culture of Karnataka closely.

All the temples and monuments of Hampi are attractively decorated during the festival.

Decorated elephants, horses, and several singers and traditional dance performers entertain guests and tourists at five different locations throughout the streets of Hampi.

The grand Jambu procession of elephants and men dressed as soldiers of the Vijayanagara Empire forms the main center of attraction. Folk songs and dances by Janpad Kala Vahini and cultural programs like puppetry and skit performances enthrall and entertain visitors. Competitions for photography, rangoli, henna painting, rural sports competitions, adventure sports, rock climbing, and water sports make the festival exciting.

Light and sound show and gathering of handicraft artisans add to the festival's charm. Stone sculptures, paintings, books, and other exhibitions attract experts who have a keen interest in exquisite craftsmanship. Visitors can enjoy an aerial view of the World Heritage Site by helicopter. What to say about the grand fireworks display at the closing ceremony? This performance complements the celebration.

Handcrafted by descendants of Vijayanagar artisans to the beat of drums and pipes

The Hampi festival organized by the Government of Karnataka reflects the splendor and glory of the Vijayanagara Empire. Relating to the lavish lifestyle of the colonial era people, the Hampi festival invites celebrities and artists from every corner of the world to grace the festival with their talents. This festival is an excellent opportunity to see the ancient art splendor of Hampi and its surroundings.

Hampi, the festival site, is located 350 km from Bengaluru and is accessible by road, rail, and air. Hubli is the nearest airport to reach Hampi by air. There are regular flights from Bangalore, Hyderabad, Chennai, and Mumbai. Taxis are readily available from the airport. Hospet is the nearest railway station at a distance of 15 km from Hampi. Hampi is one of the most sought-after places to visit in Karnataka, and many buses are available from Bangalore.

Special summer trains will be operated as per requirement- Ashwini Vaishnav

MP Chaudhary met Railway Minister Vaishnav in Delhi

New Delhi. Union Railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnav said that for the convenience of migrant Rajasthanis, special summer trains would be operated for Jodhpur, Pali, and other places in West Rajasthan as per requirement.

In New Delhi on Wednesday, Pali MP and former Union Minister of State PP Chowdhary met Vaishnav and demanded to start these special trains.

Member of Parliament Chaudhary said that at present weekly trains are running from Pune to Jodhpur and various other places in South India, but these days due to marriage and other special festivals in Marwar, lakhs of migrants living in South India have to travel to Pali, Jodhpur, Jalore, Sirohi, People have been facing a lot of difficulties in coming and going to places like Barmer. Trains currently operating are fully reserved and packed for the next 03 months. The train is the only cheap and accessible means of transportation for migrants. Most of the migrants are related to the labor class. For this reason, they cannot bear the cost of air travel.

Choudhary said that with the increase in the frequency of trains and the commencement of special summer trains, it would be easier for the migrants who play a significant role in the country's economy and the state to come and go to their native land. Along with this, the revenue of Railways will also increase.

He demanded the Sabarmati-Ajmer Intercity Express stoppage at Sojat Railway Station, Parankpur Express at Jawali and Nana Railway Station, Swarna Jayanti Express at Marwar Junction, and Aravali Express at Mori Railway Station.

He said that the common people, business people, students, and Rajasthani migrants associated with these areas have been waiting for the stoppage of special passenger trains for a long time.

In the meeting, Member of Parliament Chaudhary expressed gratitude to Railway Minister Vaishnav for recently sanctioning Jodhpur-Pune (11089/90) weekly train at Rani and Jawai Dam and Kochuvelli-Sriganganagar Express (16311/12) at Falna railway station.

Urge to approve the Bilara-Ras rail project soon.

Member of Parliament Chaudhary urged the Railway Minister to approve the Bilara-Ras rail project based on the new survey. He once again demanded the rescheduling of Ranikhet Express, Jammu-Tawi Express, Jaisalmer-Sabarmati Express, Ranthambore Superfast Express, Delhi Sarai Rohilla Express at Ausian, Tinwari, Pipar, and Mathania stations.

Heavy shopping at Sojatia Jewelers on Akshaya Tritiya

Udaipur. In recent times the prices of gold and silver have increased wildly. The price is about 8 to 10 thousand rupees more per 10 grams, but despite this, looking at the market today, the effect of the increase in gold and silver prices was not seen; at least the market was completely buzzing with the atmosphere of Akshaya Tritiya.

Dr. Mahendra Sojatia, the Director of Sojatia Jewellers, said that on purchasing gold and silver on Akshaya Tritiya, customers are believed to be taking Goddess Lakshmi to their home with complete devotion. Sojatia said there would be little reduction in the prices of gold and silver shortly. There have been many reasons behind this, including the condition of American banks, the dollar index, the Russia-Ukraine war, China and Taiwan relations, and the tremendous buying of gold by central banks of many countries, including India increasing the price of gold. As far as silver is concerned, industrial demand is also continuously increasing the rate of silver. Dhruv Sojatia said that seeing the enthusiasm of the people on Akshaya Tritiya, it seemed that the customers have now accepted the increased gold prices, even if reluctantly. Nehal Sojatia said that at Sojatia Jewellers, Hallmark Jewellery, customers like items in Hallmark Jewellery HUID, Latest Designer Collection Kundan, Polki Diamond, and Calcutta Jewellery.

Houji, Yoga, Zumba, and Aerobic organized in the family environment

Udaipur. After the formation of the new executive body of the city's prestigious field club, the members actively participated in various programs. In contrast, the number of member families in various programs was significantly less. A large number of youth and women are seen participating in these programs.

Club's Honorary Secretary Umesh Manwani said that in his election promise, he had promised various events for the Field Club member families so that the club's family atmosphere could be strengthened. In this sequence, a Ladies' House was organized for the women of the family members, in which 252 women participated. A new initiative of Yoga has been started in the club from Monday under the supervision of Gurneet Monga Bhargava. Many club members and families were present on the first day. Quizzes on various aspects of Yoga were organized in different sessions. Vice President Rakesh Chordia, Executive Member Dhruvi Nalwaya, and Kavita Kumawat actively participated in the event. Umesh Manwani said that Aerobic and Zumba classics have also been started apart from this. Club members are actively participating in it. Manwani said there would be a karaoke night for club families on April 19, for which applications were received from 56 families, out of which 35 were selected after registering. Manwani said that after taking the oath of Honorary Secretary of the club, after discussing with the member families, he has outlined the year-long events of the family environment. In this sequence, many programs will be organized this month.

World Heritage Day is celebrated at Khajuraho Jagat Temple of Mewar

Udaipur. On Tuesday, World Heritage Day, a discussion and direct observation was organized at the world-famous Ambika Temple on ancient heritage's cultural importance and historical pride. On this occasion, eminent painter Chetan Audichya discussed the specialty of Jagat Ambika Temple, also known as Khajuraho in South Rajasthan, among the academicians and students of the region. He said that the architecture and sculpture of the world are counted among the few temples of India which have not been attacked, and the art there has been present in its original state for more than a thousand years. On this occasion, Professor Satyanarayan Vaishnav, Devi Singh Sarangdevot, KK Paliwal, Bhupendra Panchal, Himanshu Barot, and Bhagwati Salvi presented their views on the importance of world heritage. Devisingh Sarangdevot highlighted the importance of World Heritage Day. In the discussion, many students put their curiosities about architecture in front of the scholars, on which Satyanarayan Vaishnav said that this temple of the world is a treasure trove of unique sculptures on various aspects of life. The work has been done.

Change society's thinking; Divyang is capable of bringing change - Prashant

When there is courage, faith, and courage in oneself, the path becomes automatic. No work is small or big, but it is important to reach the destination. It depends on how much hard work and dedication you have to achieve your goal. Prashant Agarwal, President of Narayan Seva Sansthan, said this on Tuesday in the 'Apno Se Apni Baat' program while motivating the Divyang youths who reached Udaipur from all over the country. He said that there is plenty of talent among Divyangjan. They can achieve anything if they work with solid intentions. There is a need to change the attitude of society. Narayan Seva Sansthan gives operations and artificial limbs to the physically challenged to make them physically capable. Career guidance is also given to make them mentally strong and for opportunities to move forward.

The questions of the differently-abled were also answered in the program. During this, relatives of Divyang and about 45 Bhamashahs from Jaipur, Delhi, and Madhya Pradesh were also present.

Webinar and quiz competition organized

Udaipur. A webinar was organized on the subject of climate change, availability and quality of drinking water, its effects, and solutions at Mohanlal University, Faculty of Education.

The chief guest of the program was Professor MP Sharma, retired Vidya Bhavan, and Dr. DS Chauhan, Department of Geography, Mohanlal Sukhadia University. After lighting the lamp, the guests were welcomed by the head of the faculty and in-charge, Dr. Alpina Singh. While giving the welcome speech, they said that nature also provided water to essential sources. However, we all continuously increase water wastage by adopting a materialistic culture; we must stop it and increase the capacity to collect it.

The chief guest of the program, Professor Sharma, said climate change is the biggest challenge of this century. Earth is unique, but man has created an imbalance due to his needs. We have to live with restraint and peace. Only then will the future see and understand all these sources. We all have to be sensitive to an essential element like water; there is different availability of water at every place, and climate affects every life; we all have to be balanced to solve it Explaining global cooling and global warming through PPT, Dr. Chauhan said that probably the third world war would be for water. He said the water from earthen pots and copper pots was the most suitable for drinking. Along with talking about the problem and solution, meaningful efforts must be made to increase the thinking about rainwater conservation.

After that quiz competition was organized, the quiz competition was divided into 4 phases. The first and second phases were expected, the third was a buzzer round, and the fourth was visual. Which second team, Pooja Gurjar, Chelsea, Kailash, and Tapveer, were the winners.
