

The High Court Bench Struggle Committee demanded establishment of the first virtual court in Udaipur

Udaipur: The High Court Bench Struggle Committee has demanded from the Chief Minister the establishment of the first virtual court in Udaipur. The Bar Association has raised concerns regarding parking issues.

A delegation led by Ramesh Nandwana, coordinator of the Struggle Committee, and Rakesh Mogra, President of the Bar Association, met the Chief Minister today at the Circuit House.

The delegation demanded the establishment of a High Court Bench and the initiation of Rajasthan's first virtual court in Udaipur. Rakesh Mogra, President of the Bar Association, also informed them about various issues in the district court premises.

In the memorandum submitted to the Chief Minister, it was requested to allocate land for the establishment of the High Court Bench in Udaipur, providing housing land for Green Tribunal Service Tribunal advocates, and provide land for parking and open a special court for the hearing of the NDPS (Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances) cases. The delegation also requested the Chief Minister to start the first virtual court in Udaipur, similar to the ones established in Odisha and Karnataka.

Ramesh Nandwana, the coordinator, stated that due to the absence of a High Court Bench in tribal areas, many tribal districts are deprived of access to justice, and they are unable to secure bail. Additionally, various types of appeals have been pending for 30 years, and the litigants have passed away due to a lack of justice. He emphasized the need to start the first virtual court in Udaipur under the Central Government's important scheme.

In the memorandum given to the Chief Minister, Rakesh Mogra, President of the Bar Association in Udaipur, mentioned that 4,000 advocates visit the district court premises daily for practice, and due to insufficient premises in the court, neither the litigants nor the advocates can find parking space. The problem of parking has made it difficult for people to access the court and for the general public to pass through outside the court. He requested the allocation of a direct budget for the construction of state-of-the-art underground parking near the court premises, the transfer of government buildings near the court to the judiciary, and the allocation of land to advocates at affordable rates.

The Chief Minister assured a peaceful discussion and promised to address all the demands.

The delegation included Rakesh Mogra, President of the Bar Association in Udaipur, Ramesh Nandwana, former President, Ratan Singh Ji Rawat, former President, Mahendra Ji Nagda, former President, Bharat Vaishnav, former President, Manish Sharma, Secretary, Chetan Prakash Paliwal, Vipul Vaishnav, and young advocate. Raghuvir Meena, a former Member of Parliament, was also present during the submission of the memorandum.

- Dr. Munesh Arora

SPSU Representation in 8th International Convention of SPIC MACAY

Udaipur: SPSU's talented team of five students, led by Lt. (Dr.) D S Chouhan, Associate Professor of Mathematics and Associate NCC Officer, represented the university at the 8th International Convention of SPIC MACAY (Society for the Promotion of Indian Classical Music and Culture Amongst Youth). The convention took place at VNIT, Nagpur from May 29 to June 4, 2023.

Prof. Dr. Padmakali Banerjee, Vice Chancellor, Sir Padampat Singhania University always motivate students and her unwavering support and encouragement served as a driving force for the students to participate in such prestigious events. The SPSU participants, comprising of multi-talented individuals, showcased their exceptional skills and artistic prowess, leaving an indelible mark on the global stage.

The team consisted of: Lt. (Dr.) D S Chouhan (Miniaturist), Praduman Dadhich (Gymnast), Mudit Maharshi (Harmoniumist), Karina Bairagi (Classical Dancer), Tarang Srivas (Guitarist), Aadhy Gajjar (Kathak Dancer).

The convention brought together approximately 1200 participants from India and abroad, fostering a vibrant and diverse environment for cultural exchange. The SPSU team showcased their exceptional talents, filled the air with passion and creativity, and made a significant impact on the global stage.

Throughout the convention, numerous intensive and workshops were organized, covering a wide range of art forms. Renowned artists and experts conducted sessions on various disciplines such as Mata ni Pachedi, Bharatanatyam, Kathak, Western Classical Music, Tarkashi Art, Violin, Pandvani, Gurbani, Hatha Yog, Mohiniattam, Odissi, Pung Cholom, Bagh Printing, Carnatic Vocal, Sattriya, Koodiyattam, Natural Dye Block Printing, Meditation, Dhruvad, Hindustani Vocal, Puppetry, Miniature Painting, and Kuchipudi. The convention kicked off with great enthusiasm and anticipation, featuring a captivating performance by a sitar maestro during the opening ceremony. Inspirational speeches emphasized the importance of preserving and promoting Indian classical arts. Over the course of the convention, participants engaged in workshops, interactive sessions, and hands-on learning experiences with esteemed artists and experts in various art forms. Mesmerizing performances by young and talented artists, including the SPSU team, filled the stage with soul-stirring music, graceful dance, and theatrical expressions, highlighting the immense potential of the younger generation in carrying forward the legacy of Indian classical arts. Enlightening lectures and panel discussions on the significance of art and culture took place, featuring eminent scholars, artists, and cultural enthusiasts. These discussions explored the role of art in building bridges between cultures, fostering creativity, and promoting social harmony.

The convention reached its pinnacle on the fifth day with captivating performances by renowned artists. Jugalbandis and collaborations across different art forms showcased the seamless integration of music, dance, and other artistic expressions, leaving the audience in awe of the talent and creativity on display.

The penultimate day focused on cultural exchanges and collaborations, where international artists presented their unique interpretations of Indian classical arts, blending their own cultural elements with traditional Indian art forms. These fusion performances showcased the universality and adaptability of Indian classical arts, transcending boundaries and creating cultural harmony.

The conference of the United Front of Nimbahera Assembly, organized

The conference was held to commemorate the completion of 9 years of the central government under Prime Minister Narendra Modi. The event was attended by various party leaders and workers, including former UDH minister Srichand Kripalani, state president C.P. Joshi, and several other prominent figures from the local BJP units. During his address, State President C.P. Joshi expressed gratitude towards the party workers for their dedication and hard work, which he believed had brought the party to its current position. He emphasized that the nine years of the Modi government had been dedicated to the welfare of the poor. The central government, led by the BJP, focused on good governance and worked towards the welfare of various sections of society, including farmers, youth, women, and the elderly. Joshi urged party workers to raise awareness among the general public about important issues such as loan waivers, unemployment allowances, women's safety, and the promises made to farmers under PM Modi's leadership. He also encouraged them to compare the achievements of the 9-year BJP government with the 60-year rule of the Congress party and disseminate this information to the common people. District President Gautam Dak highlighted the importance of the public relations campaign and urged BJP workers to visit every household in the villages to inform them about PM Modi's plans and initiatives. Former UDH minister Srichand Kripalani expressed his commitment to work wholeheartedly in the upcoming assembly and Lok Sabha elections. He aimed to address growing corruption, misrule, and lawlessness under the Congress rule in the region.

District head Suresh Dhakad praised the developmental achievements of the BJP government, stating that India is now being viewed optimistically by the international community. Sohanlal Anjana, the convenor of the Vidhansabha United Front Conference, criticized the local problems under the Congress government.

Without pain, there is no pleasure

Udaipur: On the last day of the 'Apno Se Apni Baat' dialogue program with Divyangjan at Narayan Seva Sansthan, Sansthan President Prashant Agarwal said do not consider sorrow as misfortune. Happiness-sorrow is the order of life, which goes on. One who has made sorrow his life force can never be defeated. Suffering and difficulties are the only way to success. He said that happiness will be felt only through sorrow. In the program, Divyangjan contacted them about their struggles, problems and future and got counselling.

Akola region faces major issues of drinking water and roads

Udaipur: The Janata Sena Rajasthan's Jan Samvad Yatra reached the Akola Panchayat area on the sixth day, where the villagers made former MLA Randhir Singh Bhinder aware of the issues. The main issues highlighted were the problems of drinking water and roads in the Akola region. Bhinder mentioned that the Congress had kept the Akola Panchayat as a backward Panchayat. They have only focused on their politics by seeking votes. However, we are committed to the development of the region. The women also made Deependra Kumar Bhinder aware of their problems, stating that their pension is not being received and there are issues with electricity. Mainly, we have to travel kilometres for drinking water. During the Jan Samvad Yatra, Bhinder was accompanied by Panchayat Samiti President Harisingh Sonagara, Bhinder Nagar Palika President Nirmala Bhojvat, Ganpat Singh Ranawat, Uday Lal Suthar - Mandal President of Loonda, and Pankaj Sukhwai, President of Udaipur Youth Janata Sena, along with officials and workers.

Yatra reaches 82 villages in 6 days. The Jan Samvad Yatra reached the Akola Panchayat area on the sixth day. In the past 6 days, the yatra has reached 82 villages. On Sunday, the yatra reached Rohanfala, Dava Ka Choura, Kawa Fala, Devli, Surkhand, Bodi Magri, Kalon Ki Chhatra, Pipalvas, and Khedi village. Yatra to continue in Akola Panchayat today. The Jan Samvad Yatra will continue in various villages of Akola Panchayat on Monday. The yatra will reach Kuan Ret Ka, Aarampura, Kundia, Khandeveda, Ghodadodh, Baba Ka Kuan, Bhagal, Bargatan Ka Kheda, Wadia, Kochaphala, Sukhadiya, Nimdi Fala, Rebariyon Ka Fala, and Akola.

"Rajasthan Sindhi Gaayan Chattabheti" program

Udaipur: Rajasthan Sindhi Sangat organized a meeting on Sunday for the "Rajasthan Sindhi Gaayan Chattabheti" program at Jhulelal Bhavan in Shaktinagar, Udaipur. Harish Rajani, the former president of the Rajasthan Sindhi Academy, informed that the program is scheduled for Sunday, June 18, 2023, at Jhulelal Bhavan, Shaktinagar, Udaipur. The program will have two groups: Junior (ages 5 to 20) and Senior (ages 20 to 50). The program was already organized in Ajmer on June 4, 2023, and in Jaipur on June 11, 2023. It will also be held in Udaipur on June 18, 2023, Kota on June 25, 2023, and Jodhpur on July 2, 2023.

Kailash Nebhnani from Sindhi Sangat mentioned that the participants who secure the first three positions in Ajmer, Jaipur, Jodhpur, Kota, and Udaipur would be awarded shields and gifts. The final competition for both groups will be held in one of these cities, and the Rajasthan Sindhi Sangat will provide the travel allowance, accommodation, and meals. In the final competition, the first prize winner in both categories will receive ₹25,000, the second prize winner ₹15,000, and the third prize winner ₹10,000, along with consolation prizes. The application form to participate in the program is available in the social WhatsApp group, and the last date for form submission is June 15. Ramesh Datwani from the community mentioned that apart from Udaipur, participants from Nathdwara, Kankroli, Salumber, Dungarpur, Chittorgarh, Banswara, and Nimbeheda have also filled out the forms to participate, and all arrangements for their stay and meals will be taken care of by the Sindhi community in Udaipur. This competition was initiated by Harish Rajani, the former president of the Rajasthan Sindhi Academy, in 2018-2019, and with his support.

'Great Place to Work' for the fifth time in a row

Udaipur: The company gets certified as a Great place to work by excelling in fostering an ecosystem of Trust, and High-Performance Culture, imbining aspects of credibility, respect, fairness, pride and camaraderie Udaipur 6th June 2023: For the fifth time in a row, Hindustan Zinc has been certified as a Great Place to Work for building a high-trust, high-performance culture within the organization. This prestigious recognition is a testament to Hindustan Zinc's ongoing efforts to prioritize employee well-being, empowerment, and professional development.

Great Place to Work® Certification is a globally recognized certification awarded to organizations that excel in building a workplace culture that fosters trust, inclusivity, and growth opportunities. Hindustan Zinc has created a Great Workplace by excelling within the 5 dimensions of credibility, respect, fairness, pride, and camaraderie.

Mr Arun Misra, CEO of the Hindustan Zinc Ltd. "I am overjoyed to have received this global recognition for the fifth time, and it is an honour to be recognised as one of the world's most aspirational employer organizations. We have worked hard to build caring and collaborative relationships based on trust and mutual respect as we have invested in people, processes, and the supporting ecosystem, creating a respectful workplace for all employees."

Hindustan Zinc has a robust HR framework that focuses on close involvement with its employees at all levels. Employees' requirements, including technological, functional, behavioural, management, and leadership aspects, drive the involvement. Gender parity is another priority of the company, with equal representation and opportunity for both genders at all levels, making it possible for women to work safely and securely even on night shifts.

Great Place to Work® Certification is recognized worldwide by employees and employers alike and is considered the 'Gold Standard' in identifying and recognizing Great Workplace Cultures and more. Based on a rigorous evaluation, it identifies the top organizations among India's Best Workplaces in 2023. These organizations excel in people practices designed for their employees and act on the feedback to create a High Trust Culture.

The Illuminati Fashion Show, based on the Rajputana and Mughal themes

The Illuminati Fashion Show, based on the Rajputana and Mughal themes, will be held in the first week of July 2023 in Udaipur. It is the most anticipated fashion show in the city for models aspiring to build a career in the fashion industry. The final auditions for the fashion show took place at VIFTY, where selected participants showcased their walk and talent hunt during the final audition round. The models chosen in the final round of auditions will have the opportunity to showcase their talent on the ramp and renowned models at the fashion show scheduled for July. Chairman Ashish Agarwal mentioned that through the Illuminati Fashion Show organized by VIFTY, local models are provided with a platform to gain recognition at the national level and build a successful career. Many participants from previous shows have received opportunities to work on major projects. One distinctive feature of the Illuminati Fashion Show is that students from the dress collage design all the models' dresses.

Pacific University Organizes Certification Program on MS Excel

Udaipur: Pacific University's Faculty of Management recently organized a two-day MS Excel certification program for students. Professor Dipin Mathur, Associate Dean of the Faculty of Management, mentioned that the university regularly conducts such vocational certification programs to enhance students' intellectual capabilities and professional skills. These career-oriented certificate programs have proven successful in improving students' employability. Such programs help students acquire competitive advantages in today's competitive world and develop the skills required by the industry.

Dr. Kulvinder Kaur, the program coordinator, provided information about the program. The program, which lasted for two days, was conducted by resource person Dr. Ali Yawar Reha, who conducted various sessions based on MS Excel. He provided knowledge about MS Excel tools such as data formatting, data validation, and data verification. He also provided detailed information about data analytics tools such as lookup, pivot, sparkline, and link embedding, which students can use for analysis and interpretation. The program saw participation from 80 participants, including students pursuing MBA, B. Pharma, commerce, engineering, computer applications, and individuals from the corporate world. At the end of the program, all participants were awarded certificates.